INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors and Shareholder of Winter Advisors, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Winter Advisors, Inc. (a development stage company) as of December 31, 2007, and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the year then ended and for the period from July 26, 2006 (inception), to December 31, 2007 that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Winter Advisors, Inc. as of December 31, 2007 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended and from July 26, 2006 (inception), to December 31, 2007, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purposes of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I, II, III, and IV is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2007

Note 1 – Summary of significant accounting policies

This summary of significant accounting policies of Winter Advisors, Inc., (the Company) is presented to assist in understanding the Company's financial statements. The financial statements and notes are representations of the Company's management, who is responsible for their integrity and objectivity.

Business activity

The Company was formed as a California corporation on July 26, 2006 and is registered with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority as a Broker-Dealer effective August 31, 2007 to provide private placement of securities and merger and acquisition advisory services. The Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

Fees for advisory services are recorded when earned and received.

Cash and cash equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company has defined cash equivalents as highly liquid investments, with original maturities of less than three months that are not held for sale in the ordinary course of business.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note 2 – Development stage operations

The Company was formed July 26, 2006. One thousand shares of common stock were sold for $1,000 and as of the date of the financial statements, advisory services had not yet began. As of the date of the financial statements, operations had been devoted primarily to raising capital, registration with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority as a Broker-Dealer and administrative functions. The Company has one shareholder.

Note 3 – Net capital requirements

The Company, as a registered broker-dealer, is required under the provision of Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the Act) Rule 15c3-1 to maintain the greater of a minimum net capital of at least $5,000 or one-fifteenth of the aggregate indebtedness as defined under the Act. At December 31, 2007, the Company's net capital was $9,971 and the Company's aggregate indebtedness was $1,000, or 10% of capital.

Winter Advisors, Inc.

(A Development Stage Company)

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2007

Note 4 – Income taxes

The Company has elected to be taxed under the Sub Chapter S provisions of the Internal Revenue Code effective July 28, 2006. As a result of the election, income before tax of the Company is currently taxable to the shareholder and no federal income tax is provided in the accompanying financial statements. California Franchise Tax is provided at the greater of the minimum California Franchise Tax or 1.5% of taxable income.

The Company has loss carryforwards for state tax purposes totaling $18,949 that may be offset against future California taxable income. If not used, the carryforwards will expire as follows:

Year	Amount
2026	$ 3,174
2027	15,775
	$ 18,949

Note 5 – Related party transactions

As of December 31, 2007, there was a loan receivable due from an officer and the sole shareholder of the Company. The unsecured loan is non-interest bearing and due upon demand. As of December 31, 2007, the balance was $3,160.

Winter Advisors, Inc.
(A Development Stage Company)
Certified Public Accountants' Supplementary Report
On Internal Control

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS' SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL

To the Shareholder
Winter Advisors, Inc.
Los Altos, California

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplementary information of Winter Advisors, Inc. (the Company), for the year ended December 31, 2007, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered its internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g) (1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13.
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate. This report recognizes that it is not practicable in an organization the size of Winter Advisors, Inc., to achieve all the divisions of duties and cross-checks generally included in a system of internal control and that alternatively greater reliance must be placed on surveillance by management.

To the Shareholder
Winter Advisors, Inc.
Page Two

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures as described in the second paragraph of this report were adequate at December 31, 2007, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the shareholder, Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
